"There is no way to overemphasize their importance in this taut world,"an Air Force representative post supervisor for this part of the state, said. "They can mean the difference, in case of a surprise enemy attack, between survival and death, and between victory and defeat."

◆ ◆ ◆

Volunteers Urged.

The Air Force representative pointed out that he isn't the only person in this area interested in a strong Ground Observer Corps. He explained that additional interest in the huge project is being shown by volnnteers daily.

"This is a very important area to have reliable watchers available for duty," he said. "Without those volunteers, the chain which will eventually make up the Ground Observer Corps in Texas will be missing a vital link. None of us can afford to fail in this."

The Air Force representative noted that while the Ground Observer Corps is in the process of being activated in Texas, it will be a short while before the program can be put into operation.

Organization Planned.

The delay is being caused by the time element involved in the building of filter centers and the extensive communications net work which must be installed. However, while those phases are being advanced, and the Air Force and other post supervisors are working on organizational planning so as to be ready for a quick and vigorous activation of the program.

Their efforts are being closely watched by Governor Allan Shivers, State Civil Defense Coordinator William L. McGill, and high officials in the nation's military forces.

State Cooperates.

In particular, the Air Force among the military is deeply concerned with the Ground Observer Corps program. That branch is working hand in hand with state and local authorities in the setting up of the corps which will be under the supervision of the Texas State Guard Reserve Corps.

◆ ◆ ◆

Details Studied.

In Austin, Lieutenant Colonel Winton E. Matthews, State Coordinator for the Ground Observer Corps, is working on details with state civil defense officials and the Texas State Guard Reserve Corps.

A veteran of World War II action in China and of the Korean battle area, he believes a strong Ground Observer Corps can do a tremendous job for the nation as a whole, in war or in peace.

Colonel Matthews and others agree that a firm observer organization for this area is essential for several reasons of local, state and national importance.

CARE OF STEAM IRONS . . .

For best performance from your steam iron, use soft water, and keep the iron clean and dry when not in use.

To dry the reservoir quickly, empty the tank after each use and plug the iron back into the outlet for a few minutes.

If minerals accumulate, put a mixture of vinegar and water (half and half) into the reservoir. Heat for about 30 minutes at 300 F. (rayon setting). After the iron cools, flush the reservoir several times with clear water.

Soft water, either rain or distilled water, is recommended for filling the iron. Hard water tends to form a lime deposit that gradually cakes the sides of the cavity and may close the steam vents.

If hard water must be used, fill the reservoir occasionally with distilled vinegar. Steam for 15 minutes and allow to stand overnight. In the morning, rinse the cavity thoroughly with water.

Get the most from all your household equipment with proper care and repair. A copy of Extension Bulletin, "Household Equipment—Its Care And Simple Repair," is available at your county agricultural Extension office.

USDA LISTS UNDESIRABLE WHEAT VARIETIES . . . . DISCOUNTED 1956 SUPPORT PROGRAM

COLLEGE STATION — A list of 23 wheat varieties designated as undisirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities has been released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Because of their undesirability, a discount of 20 cents a bushel in 1956 price-support rates will be made to discourage the planting of the listed variety.

The varieties were disignated by Agricultural Research Service after consulation with state agricultural experiment station personnel, agronomists, ceral chemists and other qualified technicians on state and federal staffs.

The price-support regulations for 1956 will provide for producer certification, that is, the identification of the variety of wheat going under price support will be the responsibility of the producer. It will be based on his knowledge of varieties seeded and harvested. No protein content premium will apply to any of the undesirable varieties.

The 23 varieties listed accounted for only 31 million bushesl of the 1954 production and 3.7 percent of the 54 wheat acreage. The varieties shown on the list included seven which are planted in Texas. All are hard red winter wheats and are Red Chief, Red Jacket, Kankan, Early Blackhull, New Chief, Yogo and Blue Jacket.

USDA officials state that this change in the price-support program for wheat is deigned to encourage the production of more desirable varieties and lessen the posibility of U. S. wheat of inferior fuality finding its way into domestic and export channels. Strong backing says the officials has come from crop inmprovement associations.

SCIENTISTS SEEK ANSWER TO WHY FLIES ATTRACT FLIES WHEN FEEDING

COLLEGE STATION — Scientist are hot on the trail of a mysterious substance which may make fly control much easier.

The clue, according to Extension Entomologist F. M. Fuller, was supplied by Army scientists several years ago when they discovered that as flies feed, the material upon which they are feeding becomes more attractive to other flies. Apparently feeding flies deposit some unknown substance which is attractive to other flies.

Now entomologists of the USDA's research laboratory in Orlando, Florida, have actually collected some of the material which they refer to as "fly factor" By dissolving sugar upon which flies have fed in water, acetone or ether and then removiny the sugar, "fly factor" was collected.

Fuller says the entomologists, turned detectives, don't know what they have, but it works. Fresh sugar was treated with "fly factor" attracted more flies than untreated sugar.

Efforts at ioslation of the material will continue and the secrets of its chemical makeup studied. If it could be produced artifically, Fuller believes it would greatly increase the effectivenss of present fly-killing insecticides by making them more attractive to flies.

3,619 Bales Of Cotton Ginned To August 26

Cotton harvesting in McKinney and Collin County, is beginning to move, as gins throughout the county report a total of 3,619 bales ginned, as of August 26, this year. The four McKinney gins ginned 321 bales of the total.

Many families, who will work in the cotton fields, have moved into this area within the last two or three weeks, and will continue to arrive while the harvest lasts. The cotton was much later this year than last, but picking is expected to be quite active throughout the couny in another week or two.

There have been no predictions thus far on the output as much of the cotton was damaged by pests, but the propect are as good as last year.

Dud Wysong, Jr. Mrs. Jouette Golf Winners

By FRED DICKINSON

Dudley Wysong Jr. and Mrs. Lou Jouette were victorious in the championship flights of the Labor Day Golf Tournament held at the McKinney Country Club over the week-end.

Young Wysong repeated as the Labor Day champion with a closely waged 4 and 2 victory over his father, Dr. H. Dudley Wysong Sr., also a former club champion.

Mrs. Jouette won over Mrs. Peggy White in the championship finals of the Women's Division by a 3 and 2 count. This match was also closely played with some excellent golf being unreeled on the front nine where Mrs. Jouette scored a 42 and Mrs. White a 44.

First Flight winner in the Women's Division was Miss Juana Keith who defeated Mrs. Eula Marie White.

Other men's winners were Kenneth Eubanks in the First flight, Tommy White in the Second Flight, Ed Beverly in the Third Flight, Leon Ussery in the Fourth Flight and Noel Smithson of Plano in the Fifth Flight.

Kenneth Eubanks won the First Flight in a brilliantly waged battle with Dr. C. J. Hicks Jr. that saw some of the best golf of the entire tournament unreeled. This one wasn't settled until the eighteenth hole where Dr. Hicks muffed a tee shot after playing brilliantly all day. Both he and Eubanks "pitched in" for long birdies in this match and both putted flawlessly. The match was even a after seventeen gruelling holes.

Tommy White's triumph in the Second Flight was also a marathon battle in which he defeated A. H. Eubanks after twenty holes of see-saw struggling. White had won his way into the finals with an extra-hole triumph over Coleman White in the morning round, Monday.

Long hitting Ed Beverly defeated Alfred M. Scott in the finals of the Third Flight in another tough struggle. In the Fourth Flight, Leon Ussery won handily from Fred Dickinson by a 4-3 score, while Smithson added more laurels to the Plano contingent at the club by defeating J. C. Cox in the finals of the Fifth Flight. Smithson, another hard hitter, was putting well in the final round.

The all-Wysong men's championship final went to Dudley Jr. on his consistency in a match that produced some of the longest range tee shots in the club's history. Young Wysong, undoubtedly one of the game's longer hitters, found his father in a slugging mood and very rarely out-drove him. On several occasions both were well over the 300-yard mark off the tee, but Dr. Wysong made a few slips, and the brilliant youngster was quick to snap up his openings. Dudley Jr. got off to a fast start with birdies on the first two holes and held the advantage through the front nine. Through twelve holes, he had upped his advantage to five holes, but lost No. 14 to a long putt by his father, who rallied beautifully to take two holes in a row. However, a tremendous 300-yard plus drive on No. 16 gave the youngster a jump that he parlayed into a par, a halved hole and the match.

In the women's championship match, Mrs. White gained a 1-up lead through the first four holes, but lost it on the sixth. Mrs. Jouette won Nos. 8 and 9 to go two up at the turn and then held this advantage through the 16th which she won to take her second club title in two years. Both the championship finalists played brilliantly throughout the tournament.

The tournament was highly successful. Following the completion of play, Monday afternoon, Club President Jewell Abernathy presented handsome trophies to the winners in all flights. Pocket cigarette lighters were presented as prizes to the runners-up in each flight.

The Tournament Committee of Kenneth Eubanks and H. Coleman White did an excellent job with the help of the Women's Golf Association of which Mrs. Mary Martha Abernathy is president and Mrs. Alice Saba and Mrs. Margie Cox, the tournament committee. Excellent entertainment exceptionally fine prizes and a smooth running tournament rewarded the members and guests in this week-end of golfing, which has for its announced objective the keeping of people off the crowded highways during the holiday period.

Three Collin Grid Teams Open Season Friday

At least three Collin County football teams will open their 1955 schedules next week, Friday, September 9, with the rest due to get into action a week later.

The headliner of the opening night will be a battle between the Fighting Farmersville Farmers and Plano's Wildcats, two Class A aggregations, at Farmersville Friday night, Sept. 9.

Both clubs are strong this fall with Plano rated as one of the top clubs in Conference A in the state. It should be a battle well worth seeing, Wylie, with one of its better squads in years, will open the same night at Forney in another non conference game.

Coach Bennett at Farmersville says his team will be short on experience this year with only eight returning lettermen but that he anticipates another good ball club. The Farmers are always a threat in their league. Leading the list of returning lettermen is End Jerry Smith, a two-year letterman who made all-district in 1954. Other award winners are Back Joel Gambrell and Raymond Bennett, Jr.; Center Bill Mercer. Tackles Henry Latham and Henry Miller, and guards Frank Uland and Clay Tarpley. Several other boys, up for last year's squad, will complete the roster.

Coach C. E. Massey has a squad of forty-two hopefuls working out a Plano. Twelve of these are returning lettermen, all seniors with plenty of experience. Coach Massey expects Richard Sartain, his 280-pound tackle, to be one of the top boys in the state this year. Sartain is a two-year letterman. Other lettermen include Ends Lewis Allman and Doyle Braden; Tackle Jack Johnson; Guards Joe Rains and Jackie Moore; Centers Larry Uland and Sam Shields and Backs Lester Prince, Tommy Shields and Jimmy Harrington and Jim Gordon. These will make up the Plano starting team — all seniors and all lettermen.

TOM and PETE — THE HOME TOWNERS

"THE GREEN LIGHTS ARE ON IN McKINNEY AND COLLIN COUNTY"

YOUR HOME Towners believe that our Deuty Sheriff's salaries should be raised, and are still under the same impression yesterday, today and tomorrow. Recently the Commissioners Court gave raises to their own employees and this has Your Home Towners endorsement as being good business. Now we base our arguments on a raise for our Deputy Sheriffs in as much as the nature of their job is a most dangerous one. When these men leave their homes, and their loved ones—there is always that chance that some thug or law violator might put a slug through them. Then remember these men have very FEW days off. They are on duty and call 7 days a week, 365 days a year, rain, snow or shine. Recently we ask a friend of ours in a nearby county what their Deputy Sheriff's salaries were. They received $215.00 a month, plus $48.00 tax free.

Recently the Commissioner Court raised their own salaries along with other elective offices of the County. Now we have heard that Collin County is supposed to be in the best financial condition ever in history and if this is true then let's give these Deputy Sheriff's a raise in salary. We feel that the majority of the tax payers won't "grip' any more at this than they will at raising their own salaries, along with employees of the Commissioners.

SEE WHERE in Big D they are erecting more signs to inform motorists of speed limits. It is reported that 85 per cent of drivers observe posted speed limits and 15 per cent will violate any posted limit. Now one way to help stop these traffic violations is to give a STIFFER FINE. People just hate to part with their money. Try it Chief—it might work.

WHEN A MAN in public office objects to citizens looking over his shoulder "he should get out of office and start stealing in the dark." In that blunt tone Judge Bill McCraw speaking at the Sheriff's Association, justified citizens' crime commissions. He was right. The Dallas Crime Commission is not political, in that it endorses someone for office. It is political, in the sense that it attempts to show how laws aren't being enforced. If that is a reflection on somebody, too bad. Recently a group of Collin County Citizens heard Dan Reynolds, who is charge of the Dallas Cirme Commission, talk. There will be a similar organization organized in Collin County, patterned after the Dallas Crime Commission. If it's working in Dallas County, it will work in Collin County.

REPRESENTATIVE Benton of Collin County was in our office today offering his assistance in the Veterans Hospital matter. He has offered to write every member of the House of Representative asking for thir support. Likewise he offered to travel anywhere in the State to tell the story of why this great institution should be maintained here for the care of veterans of all wars. Thanks Capt. and you will certainly be called upon to assist in this undertaking.

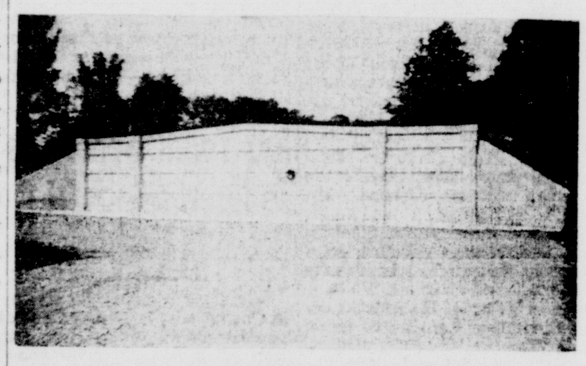
A Place of Permanent Above Ground Burial



A COMMUNITY MAUSOLEUM FOR PECAN GROVE CEMETERY McKINNEY

(Copyright 1952 by Harrell & Company)
Patents Applied For Registered in Canada

The Mausoleum

Final arrangements have been completed with the McKinney cemetery board for the construction of a Community Mausoleum in this city. The building will be as fine as money, art and science can build. The exterior walls will be of time defying Bedford Stone and marble, the inner walls of hardest reinforced concrete. All metal work will be of copper ad bronze. Since the first mausoleum was built in 353 B. C., which still exists, for King Mausolus (from whence we get the word mausoleum) such improvement in building materials has been made, that a double walled structure such as this is almost indestructible. It is of such strength that after a few hundred years when present cemeteries are obscure and present grave markers are lost, leaning or fallen, this building will stand but little if any the worse for the time it has stood, as stone becomes harder with time.

Progressiveness

A growing demand for the Community Mausoleum is shown by the fact that so many such structures have been and are being built. While this particular section of the country has few at the present time, in many sections of the United States they are predominant. In the past the excessive cost has made this type of burial out of reach of the average man but now it is actually cheaper than the average ground burial.

Our Duty To The Living

Since the beginning of time it has been man's custom to reverence his dead and it becomes a comforting thought in any age to know that one has done all possible and has given his loved one the most suitable resting place which the present time has to offer. This building provides a place where families may lie side by side in snow white compartments, high and dry, where neither water, dampness nor cold can enter. Embalming has reached such a high state of perefction that if a body is kept dry it will retain its present condition for centuries to come. This was true in Egyptian burials because they buried where water and dampness were non existent; however water or moisture quickly nullifies all of this.

To make provisions for a final resting place, which will be secure, ready, and one which cannot be molested, is not only a duty owed to our dead but is evidence to the living of our desire for their well being both now and for always. To put off arrangements until the time arrives is no better business than omitting other business transactions until the last moment. In the case of death the grief is so great and decisions so numerous that many regrettable and unchangeable mistakes are made.

There Is A Better Way

From time immemorial it has been customary in Europe for families to select a final resting place for their members in advance of actual needs. This sensible practice has now become the custom in America among thinking men and women.

Death is no respector of person or persons, and sooner or later every family must face bereavement. The average death follows a period of heavy expenses, often accompanied by loss of income. The insurance that was intended for the care of the loved ones or the education of the children is depleted and the family left in debt.

A final resting place must be selected within a limited time, regardless of finances, weather, mental anguish or personal inconvenience. Frequently the choice has necessarily been left to a disinterested outsider and too often have such hasty arrangements been the cause of everlasting regrets. It is often true that these sad but absolutely necessary arrangements are hampered by lack of adquate funds or lack of time and mental poise for the exercise of one's best judgement. We consign the mortal remains to a shallow earthly grace over which we have scant control at present and probably none in the future. A drive through a cemetery which is no longer in use will show how quickly earthly burial is blotted out, the grave and stone obliterated.

Only when the mind is undisturbed by grief or financial uncertainty, can this important duty be disposed of calmly and intelligently. Every family deserves the protection which the ownership of Mausoleum space offers.

Reasons Why You Should Secure Space

Because: The same business judgement demands it, that prompts you to save money, to carry life insurance and to make your will. Now in the calm of health you can consider and choose that which you think is best, an almost impossibility when a death occurs and the family's mind and judgement is racked with despair.

Because: Mausoleum entombment is a scientific and civilized, as well as a senimental mode of caring for the dead. The only way to keep a body perfectly preserved after it has been embalmed is by keeping moisture and dampness away from it.

Because: At present the cost is no more than and in most cases not as much as ground burial when a lot, monument, steel vault and other cemetery expenses are considered. The Building is the monument, far surpassing in size and beauty any other form of monument or memoral.

Because: This mode of entombment is both reasonable and scriptural. Our Lord was laid in a rock hewn crypt and early Christians followed this custom. The wealthier class of people have used this type of burial almost exclusively for many centuries and most of our national heroes have been buried in stone tombs or mausoleums, some of whom include Grant, Lincoln, Garfield, Washington and McKinley. Modern mausoleums now make this type of burial in reach of almost everyone.

Because: When you place the familiar form of any of your loved ones in this memorial, it will be a great comfort to know that they are at rest in a clean, dry, place free from the disagreeable features of ground burial.

Because: Preparation is wisdom's cure for worry—the only cure. Insuring the house does not prepare it to burn, but prepares us to live without worry as to the ever present possibility of it burning. Providing for mausoleum protection is not preparing to die, it is preparation to live without worry as to the ever present possibility of loved ones dying and being placed in damp cold graves.

Because: It is an investment. It cannot be damaged or destroyed and will be worth more in later years than it is now. When a Community Mausoleum is built in a town this size, all space is contracted for before it is built; therefore space is limited to those who have bought, and cannot be used except by those, unless one of the owners desires to sell his or her interests.

The Inevitable—For Which We Should Prepare

If you desire to be prepared and assure yourself and family a permanent and clean resting place, you should inquire for particulars about the mausoleum to be erected in your city. The cost now is in most cases not as much as ground burial when all expenses are considered. Reservations should be made early because the amount of space is limited. In the event of death between the time of securing space and the completion of the Mausoleum, the expense of renting a receiving vault will be borne by the builder. In the event anyone has relatives buried in the ground and desires them space, arrangments can be made for the transfer.

Where Will You Place Your Loved Ones?

You have the choice of only three modes of burial. Ground burial which means a cold, black, damp grave. Cremation in which fire blots out the form. Burial in a mausoleum with its dry snow white compartments of stone and marble. Which shall it be? Eventually you must decide.

This project is being financed and supervised by E. T. Fant, Jr., of Sherman. Anyone desiring information, photographs, etc., please contact either Mr. Fant or H. D. Mouzon (Tel. 2-3058) who is the local representative for the Community Mausoleum. There will be no obligation whatsoever on your part for a detailed explanation of this subject. It will be an asset to you, to the cemetery and to the community.

White's Stores Are Holding Annual Fall Festival Of Values

The catalogues, announcing White's Fall Festival, have been distributed and we call the attention of our readers to the hundreds of specials for the home, the car and yourself, as well as lots of timely suggestions for Christmas gifts.

Jessie Jay, manager of White's store in McKinney invites the people in this trade territory to thoroughly examine their catalogues, and then visit the store and take advantage of their great sale. The sale will continue through Saturday, October 1, according to Mr. Jay.

"White's — the home of greater values" has a complete furniture department where items may be purchased on easy terms. The same payment plan applies to other departments of the store, or merchandise may be bought on the convenient lay-away plan. Gifts bought now, would be paid for by Christmas, which would be an advantage for the shopper, in avoiding the "last minute rush" and at a time when the pocket-book is hard pressed to meet the many needs of a family and household for the holiday season.

Go by White's right away, while this big Fall Festival of values is in progress.

Mrs. Herman Strickland, of Wichita, Kansas, has been attending the bedside of her mother, Mrs. T. B. Mobley, who is recovering from major surgery.

"Reds" Will Not Be Political Issue In '56

WASHINGTON (INS). — House Un-American Activities Committee Chairman Francis E. Walter Said today "Communists in government wil not be a political issue in the 1956 presidential election."

The Pennsylvania Democrat, who recently led a Red-hunting expedition on Broadway, predicted that neither political party will have any success in claiming that the other is soft on Communism.

He credited congressional investigators in the Democrat-controlled 84th Congress with wiping the issue from the political slate.

Walter declared: "The American people now understand that neither political party has a monopoly on patriotism. The Republicans cannot successfully use the Communists-in-government issue next year."

In the 1950, '52 and '54 national elections, GOP leaders claimed that Democrats in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations and in Congress allowed Reds to infiltrate the government.

Walter said: "I believe the work of the various congressional investigating committees under the Democrats has disclosed that there is nothing of a partisan nature in the fight against Communism."
